Art Unit: 1771

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 2-16, 18-23, 25-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vinod et al, U.S. Patent No. 5,747,133 in view of Edinger et al, U.S. Patent No. 5,932,337 as set forth in the previous action in paragraph 2. With regard to new claim 29, which recites that the cover layers "consists essentially of" the claimed elements, "For the purposes of searching for and applying prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103, absent a clear indication in the specification or claims of what the basic and novel characteristics actually are, "consisting essentially of" will be construed as equivalent to "comprising." See, e.g., PPG, 156 F.3d at 1355, 48 USPQ2d at 1355 ("PPG could have defined the scope of the phrase consisting essentially of for purposes of its patent by making clear in its specification what it regarded as constituting a material change in the basic and novel characteristics of the invention."). MPEP 2111.03 Also, If an applicant contends that additional steps or materials in the prior art are excluded by the recitation of "consisting essentially of," applicant has the burden of showing that the introduction of additional steps or components would materially change the characteristics of applicant's invention. In re De Lajarte, 337 F.2d 870, 143 USPQ 256 (CCPA 1964). Therefore, the burden is shifted to Applicant to show that any additional steps of components in the Vinod and/or Edinger references materially change the basic and novel characteristics of Applicant's invention.

2. Applicant's arguments filed 4/12/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that independent claims 27-29 have been limited to include "consisting essentially of" language to describe the cover layer. However, as set forth above, the burden is on Applicant to show what the basic and novel characteristic is and how the addition of other elements would materially change the basic and novel characteristics of the invention. In the absence of this, "consisting essentially of" will be construed as "comprising" and the rejection is maintained.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
